MERCK COMPANY SENDS SPECIAL EXHIBITION

The Physical Science department is very pleased today over its new equipment and the special recognition it has received from the Merck Chemical Co.

The department has recently received a new motion picture machine. The machine is one of the best that can be purchased. It is to be used by the department in showing educational films, several of which are to be shown in the near future.

The Merck Chemical Co. sent as a gift to the department a display of 64 bottles of various chemicals made by their company. This, it is felt by the department, is quite a recognition from this company. There are several valuable substances included, such as uranium. These chemicals are put up in 8 oz. (about pint) bottles, making a colorful exhibit.

The entire display is to be placed in a cabinet where it can be seen and used as reference by the students. Whether you know anything of chemistry or not it would be worth while for everyone to see this display. Perhaps they will be exhibited in one of the department's new cabinets.

Free Science Films To Be Shown

In the next four weeks the Physical Science Department is presenting several motion pictures put out by the State Department of Visual Education. These are to be shown in the chemistry lecture hall, Room 400 in the Science building. The films are to be presented for the good of the student body and will be free to all those who wish to attend. All those interested in any of the films to be shown are invited to see them.

Dr. Martin, the head of this department, feels that the use of these films will be a definite aid in the teaching of these subjects and in the general enlightenment of the student body.

All the films are being given two showings to enable more students to attend. Following is the schedule of presentation:

Wed., Dec. 2 at 4 P. M. and Thurs., Dec. 3 at 1 P. M. "Atmospheric Pressure" and "Refrigeration."

Friday, Dec. 4 at 9 A. M. and at 1 P. M. "Oxidation and Reduction" and "Molecular Theory of Matter".

Wed., Dec. 9 at 4 P. M. and Thurs., Dec. 10 at 1 P. M. "Simple Machines" and "Fire Making."

Wed., Dec. 16 at 4 P. M. and Thurs., Dec. 17 at 1 P. M. "Four Cycle Gas Engine" and "Steam Power".

Wed., Jan. 6 at 4 P. M. and Thurs., Jan. 7 at 1 P. M. "Sound Waves and Their Sources", "Fundamentals of Acoustics" and "Water Cycle".

Choosing A Career

"Choosing a Self-Expressive Career" will be the topic of the fifth presentation in the series on "Student Problems in Ethics and Religion" which is being given at the First Presbyterian Church under the auspices of the Westminster Club.

Among the topics that will be treated will be "Self-inventory. Making a career give meaning to life. Living vs livelihood. The purposive value of religious conviction. Contributive living."

Miss Norma Sheer will be in charge of the worship period and Miss Marguerite Rupp will be in charge of the "sing".

Landon Won?

It may interest our readers to know that all of the campus straw-votes held at various colleges with whom we exchange gave Landon a large majority, as we did.

Debaters Hard At It

Ohio Conference Question—Resolved: That the Several States Should Adopt a One-House Legislature.

Nov. 12—Baldwin Wallace here. Affirmative team, James Glover, Leonard Perkins, and Howard Shine; Negative, Wayne Miller, Reed Shelly, and Rex Corfman.

Nov. 17—Two teams accompanied by McClintock and Corfman made a return trip to Berea. Glover, Perkins and Shine affirmative; Miller, Shelly and Dudley Avery, negative.

Nov. 30—Both teams at Findlay for debate in evening.

Dec. 2—Our negative team meets Ohio University here at 2 P. M. this afternoon.

Dec. 3—Both teams at Toledo for debate at 8 P. M.

No decision is given in these debates, the object being to secure a better understanding of the question. The men are doing good work and we expect them to receive favorable decisions at the Columbus tournament Dec. 12.

Mock Court Convicts Cryer

"Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye! The court of Jasper county is now in session." With this familiar court cry, Emerson Literary Society opened its meeting last Monday evening, Nov. 23).

As was previously announced Emerson conducted a mock trial and court scene. Culprit Earl Cryer, who was charged with raising a red flag on the college flag pole, was defended by Edgar Emerson. A bitter legal battle waged which was interrupted only by the judges gavel thundering down to quiet a noisy audience.

The highlight of the trial occurred when one witness, under cross examination, struck to his story despite the burning questions hurled forth by an irate prosecutor. She was in a state of exhaustion when led from the chair. Unaffected by the show of emotion, Prosecutor Floyd Porter presented a brilliant case and after a brief deliberation by the jury, was granted a victory.

MUSEUM IS RECIPIENT OF 106 SPECIMENS

From the Public Library Museum at Dayton, Ohio, our museum has just received more than 100 specimens, of which 83 are Indian stone implements and ornaments from southern Ohio. There is a human skull from Shelter Cave in Jackson county, a broken pottery jar found in Pike county, and a saddle which was made and used by Utes in the West.

Besides this Indian material the recent accessions include five well mounted birds from California, of species not previously represented in our bird collections, and the peculiar egg of an Emu, an ostrich like bird. The egg is nearly black, alike in shape at the two ends, and about ten times the size of a hen's egg. On first sight one would wonder if it were really an egg.

There is also a polished abalone shell which is beautifully iridescent, an excellent quartz geode, several trilobites and other fossils, and a fine large madreporal coral which weighs as much as all of the other specimens together.

Oberlin Considers "Four-Fifths" Plan

Last week's Campus Question at Oberlin was concerned with the advisability of adopting the "four-fifths" concentration system of studying. As in use now at Hiram, one subject is studied thoroughly for nine weeks, then another, and so on. At the same time, each student has a special program of physical activity and physiological study. Four-fifths of his time is spent on studying his single subject, the other fifth to carry out his physical education plan. It is believed that this plan results in deeper and more meaningful pursuit of each subject and a better balanced individual.

NUMERALS GIVEN '36 FROSH

Thirty-six frosh were announced by Coach Paul Landis as having earned their numerals for participation in Freshman football. They receive their awards providing that they have passing grades at the end of the 12 weeks and semester periods. Fellows receiving their numerals are: Amos, Barnes, Blecks, Bowers, Boyer, Bucher, Clippenger, Daso, Davidson, DeHoven, Dysinger, Hoffman, Henning, Ingram, Kormosis, Kirkman, Keown, Klenner, Knecht, Lowell, McKittrick, Miles, Miner, Mohler, Nibeck, Niswander, Parker, Popovich, Rothe, Steele, Siminski, Sosky, Willett, Wilson, Wolf and Zechman.

Hidden Volumes

Just prior to Thanksgiving vacation we noticed a sign in the Library stating that "white charge" books must be in by Wednesday, Nov. 25. Many of us would have liked to take advantage of the "breathing spell" from classes to get caught up in our reference reading. But at the very time the Library could have been of the most service to us we had to turn in our books. Most of us are so pushed by the daily routine that we cannot read many of the books that we would like to read. Yet when the routine is interrupted so that time is available, the books are padlocked and placed beyond our reach.

Christmas vacation is only three weeks off. Certain of the professors urge us each year to read at least one good book during vacation. Many of us would like to if they were available. Is there any plausible reason why students in good standing should not be allowed the use of library books during their two weeks vacation? We think that students should not only be granted this privilege but should be encouraged to take advantage of it. Was not the Library established to serve us in the best manner possible? What about it, librarians?

Americana

Seven Major Revolutions stand out in American history. The following list shows their fundamentally similar character.

They are named in their order of time, revolutionary leader, the monster, and symbol:

- 1776—Washington, Imperialism, King George.
- 1800—Jefferson, Aristocracy, Monocrats.
- 1828—Jackson, Aristocracy, U. S. Bank.
- 1860—Lincoln, Slavocracy, Slavery.
- 1896—Bryan, Big Business, Gold Standard.
- 1912—Wilson, Big Business, Trusts.
- 1932—Roosevelt, The Machine, Tories.

As to the methods of our revolutions: they occur more or less regularly once a generation; they are for the purpose of restoring the government into the hands of the common man; they grow out of a mass desire to overcome some bogey or monster which the common man thinks is threatening his inherent liberties; they (at least five of them) have been peaceful, limited to an overturn of the ballot box; they are an inherent part of our democracy, and when this

"The big red apple sometimes found on the teacher's desk took the form of a bottle of Hiram Walker's on the desk of Instructor Mulloy at Creighton University."—The Campus Collegian.

Flash! "Einstein" Buess has slipped up! He only got 94 per cent in a Physics test the other day; this knocks into his 100 per cent batting average. Better watch that, "Einstein!"

Six feet of land is all that insurgents can get from Stalin and the Reds. Yeah, six feet long and six feet deep.

Physicist No. 2 of the present Physics classes has sworn off being 'serious' (with whom?) (Overheard when we are confronted by above-mentioned gents: "Now listen, boys, let's talk this over quiet-like.")

The Denisonian and Campus Collegian are still waxing wroth over the "Amateur standing" fight explained in an editorial of ours last week. The Denisonian had 40 inches of subject matter on the fight a short time ago in a single issue. That would be equivalent to using three entire columns from top to bottom in the Bee Gee News! Tsk! Tsk! laddies; be "too proud to fight."

That a mouse is not readily put out of the way was discovered by two Oberlin heroes the other day. Early rising maidens were horrified by a mouse trapped in a bathtub at Crawford Hall. Shreiks brought two rescuers who attempted to drown the critter. Unsuccessful, they tried scalding him, upon which he waved the flag of truce.

The above plight is equalled by another group of Oberlinites trying to find Denison University in Denison, Ohio. Naturally, they didn't find it; it's at Granville, Ohio, two hundred miles from Denison.

- Friday, 8:30—Inter-Sorority Dance
- Saturday, 8:30—All Campus Dance
- Sunday, 3:00 to 5:30—Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Silver Tea at Dr. Williams' home
- Monday, 7:00—Emerson Literary Society; 8:00, Bee Gee News Meeting; Book and Motor Party

The entire student body of the University and faculty are invited to attend the second annual Silver Christmas Tea to be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Williams, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6, from 3:00 to 5:30.

The Y. M. and Y. W. organizations sponsor this affair. The proceeds are used in part for social work in the community.

The program throughout the afternoon will consist of readings, vocal and instrumental music, including harp music. Everyone is welcome to come.

The Bee Gee News is late again; so we'll tell you a little story. Once upon a time the editor of the Ashland Collegian, irked by reporter's failing to turn in copy, wrote a nice big editorial about the irresponsibility of reporters. Suspecting that this gesture is of little avail, we shall not do likewise, much as we would like to shift the blame for a late paper. Let's just say that there was too much Thanksgiving. Incidentally, fellow scribes, deadline is Monday morning at 9 a. m. in the News Box. Otherwise, no paper 'till Thursday.

FIVE BROS.

Doc Lake tells us in front page headlines that Brother John Cheetwood will lead the 1937 edition of the Falcons. Nice work, Johnnie, we are proud of you.

Visiting the gym the other afternoon, we found the basketball squad at work and, incidentally, another brother, Cliff Conrad, is captain of this year's team. We are sure Cliff will do himself proud.

To continue our parade of captains, we believe that another of our boys, Eddie Siminski, was elected honorary captain of this year's Frosh squad. Work hard, Ed, and coach may allow you to stay on the squad.

We find that a large number of other boys were lettermen this year. They are: Ross Bateson, John Ihnat, Waldo "Tuffy" Henderlich, Harvey Newlove, Steve Penton, Mitchell Wodzinski, and Charles Young. To complete this list of worth while achievements, we discovered Paul Powell received a manager's award.

Commoners

Just three more weeks until Christmas. Perhaps you will think that all this writer thinks about is vacations. However, they are pleasant thoughts, or aren't they?

No sour reports have been received from any of the fellows but those who have been seen seem to be ready to go again. This week we will all know how our schedule in school is keeping up with our extra-curricular schedule. That is to say we will know if the dates, etc., are showing the marks on our "estimate of standing" cards up or down. However, fellows there is more than one side of life no matter in what country you live. Also remember a balance is much better than a headache from studying or low standing because of too many other activities.

From all reports several fellows had good intention for this past vacation. They intended to get some extra studying done but only managed to get some extra food. This may have been for the best since this week will leave little time for eating between exams, term papers and some petty quizzes.

The new fellows on the campus will be making their mark by this time. I suggest that all you fellows become interested in some fraternal organization. It's great to know there is a group with whom you can personally associate. Invitations to join fraternities will be given out next semester but now is the time to look over the different groups of fellows. Joining a fraternity is a problem to most fellows. Here's a tip to follow: Be sure you get into that group with whom you wish to associate now and in later years. We're thinking of you, and good luck with the tests!

Lieutenant (finding a volunteer): You name, sir?
Marine: Archie King.
Lieut.: Your rank, sir?
A. King.: Yes, sir, but don't rub it in.

- SOCIAL EVENTS

DELHI

The fellows are getting over the Thanksgiving vacation. Some of the boys had good turkey, some greasy duck (Milo Howard for one—his nick name is "quack-quack"). Then there were several who had th eal-ways eatable chicken.

Vacations are splendid occasions and many pleasant memories of them are held in our thoughts for long periods of time. However, these same vacations are equally as bad for this column; no boys around the House; no news about them. But we will hear several interesting incidents that happened at the individual houses but we don't have it now as this article goes to press.

Trust we will have some definite news next time.

Iggie Says

From eating so much over Thanksgiving vacation, lots of us have fallen arches of our chest expansion.

I wonder if pouring hot water on the thermometers would help to make the weather any warmer.

By the looks of my test papers I believe the profs here agree heartily that the A's are unconstitutional.

Why don't some of the fellows that have such big feet donate their shoes to be used as waste paper baskets?

"Married people are lucky—especially if they're single."—Calamity Howler.

"From the sound of some of the radio songsters coming over the air these days, we're inclined to believe that they gargle with crushed razor blades."—Ditto.

Holidays make one groggy—even more so than usual; so now I must wearily wend my weary way westward to that weary eight o'clock.

Bye now,

THREE KAY

Last Tuesday evening we had a very impressive pledge service for our new members. It won't be long now, until these new owlets will be one of us—and we welcome them wholeheartedly.

Another holiday gone by! So much turkey and dressin' and stuffin' and such. It seems as though there shouldn't be nothin' left of us!

FIVES

Happy Days Are Here Again—for there's a fine new group of pledges at our beck and call once again. And we're very proud of them too.

These are the girls who received their first degree last Monday night:

Opal Rockhold, Marjorie Miller, Jean Snyder, Mildred Tynner, Pauline Bates, Madeline Ball, Josephine Mercer, Hilda Burlingcourt, Welden Brooks, Gretchen Zeig, Mary Gaines, Helen English, Martha Reilly, Elizabeth Pringle, Marie Lutz, Betty Dickson, Jane Dickson, Virginia Slater, June Rogers, June Stump.

Wms. Hall

Chicken, biscuits, carrots, beans, fruit salad, ice cream, cake!—just an idea of what our Thanksgiving and Birthday dinner was like last Sunday—ask the girl who ate one.

The idea of selling hot dogs Friday night went over with a "bang". We are going to sell them often now—so make it a habit to stop at Williams or Shatzel after campus affairs.

Can anyone tell what came over Louise Weigel one night last week in Room 117? Also, why do all the waitresses, especially Lois, find work to do in the kitchen Tuesday noons?

Williams Hall has challenged Shatzel Hall to a soccer game to be played Thursday, Dec. 3 at 4 P. M. on the Woman's hockey field. All those interested are invited to attend. Clara-belle Lee will referee the game.

The Williams Hall team is composed of the following girls: Rita Haskins, captain; Mary V. Miller, Irene Pfeifer, Fern Sharp, Charlotte Iman, Jane Heckler, Dorothy Ryland, and Frances Story, Esta Hatcher, Shirley Hanna, and Lois Egbert.

The Shatzel Hall girls will be led by Dorothy Picket. The rest of the team includes Etheline Cooper, Lydia Rupp, Elenore Epley, June Auer, Rose Anna Wagner, Dorothy Ogan, Lorraine Griffith, and Mary Helen Lowell.

SEVENS

Now that everyone is back from vacation and ready for work, the Sevens would like to have everyone meet their new pledges. They are Ruth Spackman, Francis Uber, Ruth Allen, Grace Heater, Ruth Osborne, Helen Miller, Betty Cook, Ruth Flaler, Dorothy Sarver, Mary V. Miller, Norma Sheer, Louise Ault, Beatrice Meacham, Doris Lane, Mildred Mannhardt, and Angeline Knight.

Lois Kemmis, a teacher at Gustavus and an alumni, visited for a short while at the sorority house.

Las Amigas

If anyone would like a complete list of all members and pledges it can be secured by getting a small hand-made book from anyone of them. This isn't a sales talk but it is a good bet, because I don't believe any of the girls would part with them. These books provided us with entertainment when we had a group of girls at the Nookery a couple of weeks ago. It really was fun! Ask any of them.

We had our first pledge meeting Tuesday, Nov. 24, and gave the following girls their pledge pins: Isabel Parker, Glenna Kurtz, Ann Yackey, Alice Burkhardt, Mildred Weis, Betty Geis, Wanda Suter, Beulah Crandall, Elaine Andrews, Aileen Matthews, Virginia Francis, Virginia Frye, Benita Gillespie, Wahnita Kershner, Catherine Biery, D'Nelle Mason, Rhoda Winters. We hope you learn to know them and like them as well as we do.

Congratulations to all Book and Motors and especially to our own Book and Motor member, Carolyn Schroerluke.

SORORITIES

PHRATRA

Have you by chance noticed the sudden heat wave which has been circulating through Bowling Green this past week? Well, the praise all goes to our eleven pledges who have been so diligently carrying out our orders to make themselves known on the campus.

Last Tuesday evening at a candle-light service we formally pledged the following girls: Dortha Anderson: Dorothy Blatchford, Alice Jo Borset, Catherine Beck, Esther Baum, Winifred Vogelpohl, Eleanor Briner, Marjorie Barnt, Martha Heater, Madge Kline, Rita Snyder.

We are indeed happy to welcome them!

The usual suitcase parade was in full swing last Wednesday afternoon when we all rushed back to the realms of our paternal ties. From all reports a good time was had by all.

Skol

We are glad to see that the Thanksgiving vacation didn't get the best of most of us.

Last Tuesday night we entertained our fine group of fourteen pledges. They are Dolores Anderson, Ruth Barnes, Betty Dillinger, Margaret Ernst, Eva Fretwell, Mildred Fetzer, Jeanette Gamble, Wilma Holt, Joyce Killbury, Jane Kuhn, Betty Lou Platt, Alice Spreng, Winona Shade, and Margaret West.

We are extremely proud of our Skol sister, Jane Hobart, who was recently elected to Book and Motor.

FALCONS OPEN SEASON DEC. 12

Wilson And Thomas Are Ineligible

The Bowling Green State University Falcons will open their basketball season Dec. 12 with the Bluffton College Beavers invading the local gym.

Seventeen men have been selected tentatively to form the nucleus of the local quintet and they have been practicing during the past two weeks in preparation for the game.

Handicapped by the lack of tall men the team will rely on speed and deception against the opponents. In opening the season Coach Landis will undoubtedly have at least three or four of last year's varsity starting with the remainder of the team consisting of Sophomores. With the record that the Soph football put up it is hoped that the Sophs will help the basketball team to reach high acclaim. The following men make up the squad: Bucklew, Bushong, C. Conrad, Clingaman, H. Conrad, Cordisco, Hagemeyer, Inman, Jones, Kinney, Kuhlman, Perry, Pick, Smith, Thatcher, Young Collins.

Who's Who

Jim Inman, '36 football captain of Bee Gee Falcons, was born and raised in Perrysburg, O. There he attended the local high school where he was awarded nine athletic letters and twice elected basketball, and once football captain.

In athletics at B. G. U. he proved a great asset. Here he made three football letters, elected '36 captain, and two basketball letters. His excellent teamwork, spirit and judgment was rewarded by his election to the Ohio Conference in 1934. These same virtues aided in leading the Falcons to a very successful football season in '36.

Jim is a member of the Delhi Fraternity and the Sigma Delta Si, is majoring in physical education; minoring in Social Science, and as Jim says, "a few more." As you may naturally expect, he likes football the best of athletics and he surely got what he liked this year because he played in every football game of the season.

Married? Yes, Dec. 5, 1934, to a lovely and lucky St. Vincent's graduate nurse. They have a 16-month old boy—Richard James.

When Jim was asked as to what future he had planned for his son, he replied smiling, "he better be able to play football and I think he will because he's a big as a boy of two and he eats like a horse."

But now Jim's going to the altar again. No, not as groom, but as a best man to "Beany" Warner.

The '37 Falcons will find Inman's position hard to replace because he has been the real backfield threat of the Orange and Brown.

Good luck to Jim, and here's success to his future.

VARSITY LETTERS AWARDED TO EIGHTEEN

Eighteen members of the football squad were awarded varsity letters for their part in the past season. Three Seniors, four Juniors and eleven Sophomores were among those receiving recognition. Managers letters went to eight fellows for their services.

John Cheetwood, a Junior, was elected captain of next falls varsity football squad, and being a student of the game will make the Falcons a capable and dependable leader.

Varsity members to receive letters are: Bateson, Brentlinger, Cheetwood, Clingaman, Dotson, Herbert, Inman, Henderlich, Inman, Kinney, Kuhlman, Mustain, Newlove, Penton, Pick, Stewart, Wodzinski, and Young.

Managers awards went to Scott, Powell, Rothrock, Broyles, Starrett, Miller, Gebhart, and Bradley.

A naval officer was rescued from the briny deep once by a deck hand. Asked if he wanted a reward, the deck hand said, "The best thing to do is say nothing of it. If any of the boys knew that I pulled you out, they'd chuck me in."

LARGE GROUP REPORT FOR FROSH BASKETBALL

Sixty five youths from the the Frosh class reported to Coach Landis for Freshman basketball Monday night. Before the end of the week the number is expected to swell to seventy-five.

With the squad as large as it is, it will be hard to determine which ones will make up the twelve members of the Frosh team. At the present twelve will be picked according to the ability shown in practice. Thirty or forty will be given coaching by students of the Phys. Ed. department and they will form a closed league for intramural play. The remainder of the fellows will undoubtedly be dropped unless some other provision is made for them.

As it was with the football squad, the cage squad looms as the best Frosh team for many years to represent the University. Size, speed and ability is abundant every where and in our estimation they will encounter the varsity in many lively practice sessions.
